The National Graduate Recruitment Conference 2010

The Grove Hotel, Hertfordshire Friday 17th September 2010

High Fliers Research is delighted to present its fourth national conference exclusively for graduate recruiters. With no suppliers, no agencies and no sponsors, this one-day event provides a unique forum for the UK's leading employers to discuss the latest developments in graduate recruitment.

Timed to take place just before the start of the university recruiting season, the full conference programme includes:

- an in-depth review of graduate recruitment in 2009-2010 by Martin Birchall, Managing Director of High Fliers Research
- keynote addresses by:
  - Adrian Thomas Head of Resourcing, Network Rail
  - Sonja Stockton Director, Talent Acquisition, PricewaterhouseCoopers
  - James Darley Graduate Recruitment Director, Teach First
- a choice of 'insight' sessions, providing first-hand accounts of how some of the country's best-known employers approach their recruitment, hosted by:
  - Steven Gard Recruitment Channel Manager, BT
  - Louise Clark Head of Recruitment & Marketing, GCHQ
  - Stephanie Ahrens Director, EMEA Graduate Recruitment, Morgan Stanley
- the opportunity to meet student job hunters from the 'Class of 2011'
- 'Graduate Recruitment Question Time', debating the challenges for the year ahead with a panel of senior graduate recruiters,
  - Sarah Cockburn UK Graduate Resourcing Manager, BP
  - Rob Fryer Graduate Recruitment Manager, Deloitte
  - Clare Harris Associate Director, Legal Resourcing, Hogan Lovells
  - Helen Alkin Graduate Recruitment Manager, Marks & Spencer
  - Alex Bush National Lead, Graduate Management Training Scheme, NHS
- an exclusive preview of the graduate vacancies and starting salaries that Britain's top employers will be offering in 2011

The Grove, a contemporary five-star hotel set in over 300 acres of parkland, just 30 minutes from central London, provides a convenient and prestigious setting for The National Graduate Recruitment Conference 2010.

The delegate rate for the conference is £395+VAT (reduced to £295+VAT for bookings made by 30th June 2010) and includes a three-course lunch in The Grove's Glasshouse Restaurant.

So, make a date to join Britain's top recruiters this September and book your place at www.highfliers.co.uk/conference
