A total of 19,863 finalists from the Class of 2020 at the country’s leading universities took part in face-to-face interviews to research the UK’s top graduate recruiters.

The votes have been counted and the awards for this year’s most sought-after graduate employers can now be revealed...
Introducing the Awards
Each year since 1998, The Times Graduate Recruitment Awards have celebrated the real achievements of the UK’s top graduate employers. Uniquely, the awards are decided entirely by those who matter most in graduate recruitment – final year students who are just about to leave university and start their first graduate job.

This year’s awards have been compiled from direct feedback from on-campus research groups and face-to-face interviews with thousands of finalists from the ‘Class of 2020’ at thirty-four leading UK universities, completed just days before the effects of the Coronavirus began to be felt across the country.

How the Awards are Researched
There are three categories of awards, each researched during the 2019-2020 graduate recruitment season.

The ‘Graduate Employers of Choice 2020’ were identified from face-to-face interviews with 19,863 final year students during February 2020. Students who had applied for jobs in 21 specific career areas – such as engineering, accountancy and human resources – were asked which employers within this area they most wanted to work for. Finalists did not choose from lists of organisations, and their responses were entirely unprompted.

For the ‘Graduate Employer of the Year 2020’ award, all 19,863 final year students were asked the open-ended question, ‘Which employer do you think offers the best opportunities for graduates?’ Again, finalists weren’t shown a list of employers to select from, and their answers were not prompted in any way. The results from this question are also used to compile The Times Top 100 Graduate Employers league table.

The final awards – for the best graduate recruitment website, brochure, advert and social media – were judged by on-campus research groups held with finalists across the UK. Over 1,000 final year student job hunters participated in the assessment, reviewing the recruitment literature and online information from sixty major employers.
